A – Effective independent work which clearly shows initiative and perseverance; relevant material with an interesting range of ideas related to costume and its application to production.

B – Considerable level of skill evident, work shows inventiveness and understanding of the chosen area – particularly through designs and use of material.

C – Good evidence of learning and development throughout the portfolio. Reflection is sustained and represents a good quality of critical reflection connected to learning.

D – Register appropriate to format and subject matter. Sources chosen relatively well and properly attributed. Under word limit.

E – Some ability to integrate and research, into the play and costume design, though the latter need to be more convincingly incorporated into the development of the project.
